DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to applicant's amendment filed June 11, 2007. Claims 1, 3, 5, 27, 30, 36-39, 44, 47, and 48 are currently pending in this case.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3, 5, 27, 30, 36-39, 44, 47, and 48 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, 5, 27, 30, 36-39, 44, 47, and 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Misra et al (US 5,999,711) in view of Elander et al (US 4,500,750).

5. Regarding claims 1, 27, 30, 44, and 48 –

Misra discloses a method of providing an authentication service (e.g. abs; col 1 ln 64-col 2 ln 7), comprising: with an authentication server, relating a user identity to a set of authentication mechanisms, the user identity belonging to a user (e.g. col 1 ln 64-col 2 ln 7) ; relating a type of transaction with a relying party to a level of authentication, the relying party reliant on the authentication service to authenticate the user before user access is provided to its service, program or information (e.g. col 2 ln 61-col 3 ln 9); the user or relying party selecting at least two authentication mechanisms to input from the set of authentication mechanisms according to the level of authentication associated with the type of transaction, wherein a flexible authentication process is provided (e.g. col 2 ln 61-col 3 ln 9); and authenticating the user identity wherein the user is granted or denied access to the service, program or information provided by the relying party (e.g. col 3 ln 6-9).

6. Misra does not disclose, but Elander does, authenticating the user identity through the at least two authentication mechanisms, (e.g. col 4 ln 45-65).

7. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Misra and Elander, firstly in order to obtain greater security, and secondly given that the user in Misra may choose whether or not to authenticate at all, it makes sense to extend that choice to include which authentication to use.

8. Regarding claim 3, 36-39 –

Elander discloses monitoring a series of authentications for the relying party to detect fraud. (e.g. col 4 ln 45-65).

9. As above, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Misra and Elander, firstly in order to obtain greater security, and secondly given that the user in Misra may choose whether or not to authenticate at all, it makes sense to extend that choice to include which authentication to use.

10. Regarding claim 5 –

Misra discloses limitation of performing the method above using a portable computer (portable computer = mobile input device) (E.g. col 2 ln 30-45).
